Larry Pulley: We're in full swing

“I hope 2011 is off to a very fine start for you in 2011…we are in full swing here at the Mason School of Business.”

L'Enfant joins revolutionaries at Miller Hall
From the start, the plans and capital budget for Alan B. Miller Hall have included art. With the installation this month of "Pierre L'Enfant, Laying Out Washington," by Gordon Kray '73, the plan has been fully realized.

The bronze sculpture, as well as the paintings, watercolors and mixed media pieces around the building, are part of the President's Collection of Art.
