

Connect with us on the web!

We are proud of the community of the Mason School and are always looking for ways to connect. What we've learned over the years is that it is so important to stay in touch. We've put together a variety of options for our alumni, friends, prospective students and partners to join us.

Friend us on Facebook, network on LinkedIn and put yourself on the Mason Map. Watch the latest video from the Mason School on our YouTube channel, and on Flickr, share your photos with the Mason group or view ones we've taken.

If you want to join the conversation, Dean Pulley invites you to his new blog where he'll be sharing his thoughts about the school, our new home, and a variety of topics about business, business school and alumni. The assistant deans of the programs will also be blogging here, so there will be plenty of discussion.

Please stay tuned for the launching of the Mason School blog in February. Current students, prospective students, alumni, faculty and friends will all be taking their turns in sharing their stories, opinions and ideas on this blog. Let us know if you're interested in being part of it.
