Leadership & Business Podcasts: Mike McSherry

Entrepreneurship & Success
Most entrepreneurs and professionals in the start-up world know that success is hard to come by, especially in the tech arena. For many, the number of failures far outweighs the number of successes. That has not been the case for Mike McSherry, who has successfully sold four of the five start-ups he has co-founded. He is currently CEO of Zealth - a digital prescribing and analytics platform integrated into healthcare electronic medical records, and joins the podcast to discuss his career, entrepreneurship, and the tech start-up space.
