Fall 2017

Admission Requirements for the Undergraduate Business Program

Thank you for your interest in our Undergraduate Business Program. While other business schools tell you what you should do, we challenge our students to imagine what they can do with their business education. At the Raymond A. Mason School of Business, we want you to explore and develop your strengths and talents -- in business and beyond.

Our admission process is designed to identify students who will thrive academically and professionally, and who will contribute to our learning community through their unique background of talents and experiences.

Successful candidates exhibit:
- Academic achievement to date (as exhibited by grades, course load, difficulty of courses, trends in academic performance, and recovery from academic setbacks).
- Personal attributes and life experiences that illustrate the drive to better oneself and others, resilience in the face of challenges, ethical character, openness to diverse perspectives, entrepreneurial and creative spirit, and a collaborative approach in working with others.
- Strong communication skills (as demonstrated by one’s application essay).

To be considered for admission, all prospective business majors must meet the following qualifications prior to the semester of entry into the Business School:
